

Tour with Snorkelling (Tour w/fish)

This activity can be performed both on Pico or/and Faial.

The activity begins with you choosing the suit, fins and snorkelling glasses/tube, that you fill more at ease /comfortable. Resorting to a changing closet you can dress the suit and on the small harbour we will check the glasses/snorkel as also the fins.

With the attendance of a qualified person for this purpose, we will proceed to an evaluation of the floatage, followed by the instruction of several techniques of muscular and respiratory relaxation, in order to obtain a better performance in the apnea, directly influencing the quality of the snorkelling.

A lecture by a marine biologist with identifying charts of the possible species and other particularities to observe, as well as a consequent follow-up during the activity, ensuring all safety conditions.

The inherent biodiversity of the coastal waters of the Azores is known to be high, with species with tropical species characteristics (growth and high number of specimens, bright colours and small sizes), for example: rainbow fish (Coris Julis), balloon fish, painted moray (Moreana Helena), etc. But also, the possibility of the presence of species characteristic of the Northeast Atlantic (Triggerfish, Seabreams, etc.), as well as the possible occurrence of large deep ocean fish or rays.
